MARKET COMMENTARY

The Aussie market finished slightly positively after spending most of the day in negative territory. Global funds were selling and the banks were taking most of the pain. Gold and Oil were the main outperformers with WTI going above $60 a barrel in recent days and spot gold flying past US$4600. US has resorted to domestic social unrest and global geopolitical unrest to distract the masses calling for Epstein files. The economic mess is getting worse, and the White House is attacking US Fed chair and blaming him. The policy failures are getting worse, and the Fed may not be able to bail them out. The bond market is starting to realise Fed independence is about to break down while the commodity markets are taking off on currency devaluation worries. The threats to Iran from US continue to pile up but markets are questioning the execution reality. The US has been dumping oil on the market to keep prices down while the markets are starting to look past that. Latest US inflation measure, which lacks trust in the market, showed that discretionary spending is falling while essential spending drives price rises. Weakening job markets and weak consumers are going to create economic problems in the US. It may be different this time!

CNBC – Oil > Crude oil prices rose more than 2% on Tuesday, after U.S. President Donald Trump canceled all meetings with Iranian officials and promised protesters that help is on the way. U.S. crude oil rose $1.65, or 2.77%, to close at $61.15 per barrel. Global benchmark Brent gained $1.60, or 2.51%, to settle at $65.47 per barrel. The Islamic Republic's security forces have cracked down on large-scale demonstrations with hundreds of people reportedly dead. The government has cut off Internet access in Iran, making it difficult to verify how the situation is evolving on the ground. Trump has repeatedly threatened to intervene if the Islamic Republic kills protesters. "Iranian Patriots, KEEP PROTESTING - TAKE OVER YOUR INSTITUTIONS!!! Save the names of the killers and abusers," Trump said in a Truth Social post Tuesday. "They will pay a big price," the president said. "I have cancelled all meetings with Iranian Officials until the senseless killing of protesters STOPS. HELP IS ON ITS WAY. MIGA!!!" Iran is a member of OPEC and a major crude oil producer. The oil market is monitoring whether the unrest could lead to disruption.

CNBC – China > China's exports growth in December sharply beat expectations, catapulting the annual trade surplus to a record high, while imports rose at their fastest pace in three months. Exports surged 6.6% in U.S. dollar terms last month from a year earlier, Chinese customs data showed Wednesday, topping analysts' median estimate for a 3% growth and accelerating from a 5.9% jump in November. Imports rose 5.7% in December from a year earlier, topping expectations for a 0.9% growth — strongest since September last year when they climbed 7.4%, according to LSEG data. China's exports for the full year grew 5.5% while imports stayed flat, taking Beijing's trade surplus to $1.19 trillion, up 20% from 2024.

Historically, 75% of retail investors have experienced losses during positive market periods. Investors are now facing market cycles that are unprecedented in their lifetime, making risk management a crucial aspect of investing. Going forward, the trend towards active investing is reemerging as investors seek quality, relative value, profitability, and dividends. To navigate this new paradigm, it's important to have an active investment strategy that is flexible and adaptable to changing market conditions!

The annual inflation rate in the US remained at 2.7% in December 2025, the same as in November and in line with market expectations. Price pressures eased notably in the energy sector, with prices rising at a much slower pace (2.3% vs. 4.2%), driven by a decline in gasoline prices (-3.4% vs. +0.9%) and a moderation in fuel oil inflation (7.4% vs. 11.3%), while natural gas prices rose more sharply (10.8% vs. 9.1%). Prices also increased at a slower rate for used cars and trucks (1.6% vs. 3.6%). By contrast, price gains accelerated for food (3.1% vs. 2.6%) and shelter (3.2% vs. 3.0%). Meanwhile, the annual core inflation rate remained unchanged at 2.6%, the lowest level since 2021, below expectations for a rise to 2.7%. On a monthly basis, the CPI edged up 0.3%, in line with forecasts, with shelter costs rising 0.4% and accounting for the largest contribution to the overall increase. The core rate came in at 0.2%, below forecasts of 0.3%.

South Korea's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate jumped to 4% in December 2025, extending its rise for a third straight month and reaching its highest level in nearly five years. Unemployment typically rises in December as cold weather and icy conditions slow outdoor work. Seasonal pauses in construction, agriculture, fisheries, and forestry, along with the end of government-funded job programs, also contribute. The number of unemployed people rose to 1.22 million, up 103,000 or 9.2% year-on-year. Despite the weaker labor backdrop, the economy added 168,000 jobs, a 0.6% increase from a year earlier, bringing total employment to 28.2 million. However, that figure fell sharply from 29.71 million in November, highlighting recent labor market softening. The labor force participation rate stood at 64.1%, up 0.2% from a year ago but down from 64.8% in the prior month, signaling reduced workforce engagement at year end.

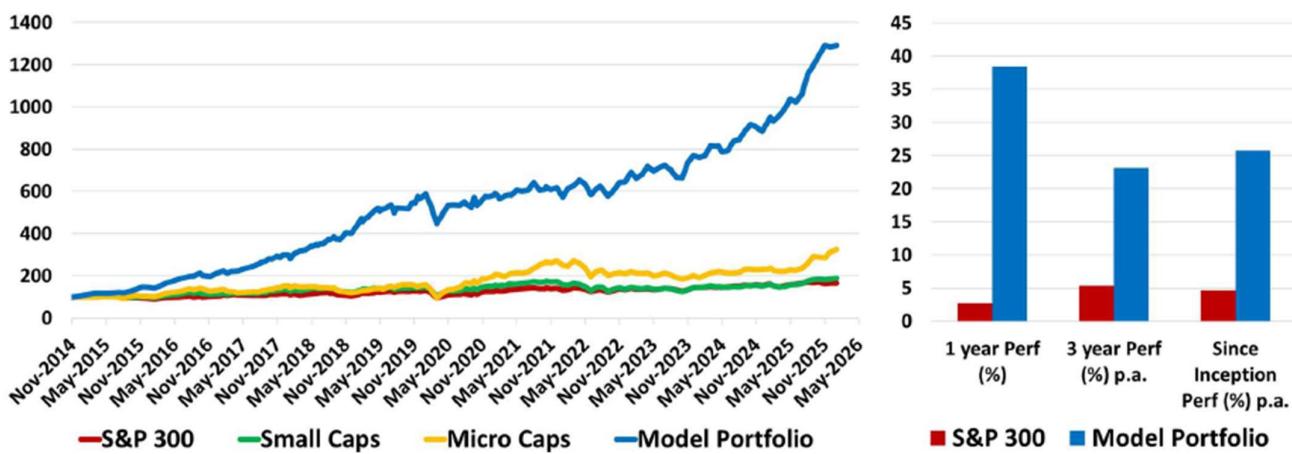

China posted a record USD 1.189 trillion trade surplus in 2025, with exports rising 5.5% while imports were flat. Faced with Trump's tariffs, Chinese exporters shifted production away from the US market and toward alternative destinations, particularly the EU and Southeast Asia. In December alone, the surplus reached USD 114.1 billion, marking the seventh time monthly surpluses exceeded USD 100 billion last year. Exports grew by 6.6% yoy, after a 5.9% in November, surpassing expectations of 3.0% growth, marking the fastest pace since September, driven by a surge in exports to non-US markets, as governments have sought to diversify export destinations since Trump's victory in the November 2024 presidential election and to deepen trade ties with ASEAN and the EU. Meanwhile, imports rose 5.7% yoy, beating expectations of 0.9% and marking the fastest pace in six months. China's trade surplus with the US fell to USD 23.25 billion in December, down from USD 23.74 billion in November.

The seasonally adjusted number of total dwellings approved in Australia surged 15.2% month-on-month to a near four-year high of 18,406 units in November 2025, matching a preliminary reading and swinging from a 6.1% decline in the previous month. It was the steepest monthly rise since May 2023, buoyed by a strong upturn in permits for private sector dwellings excluding houses (34.1% vs -13.5% in October). Also, approvals for private sector houses recovered modestly (1.3% vs. -1.3%). Geographically, building permits increased in New South Wales (28.7%), Victoria (23.8%), Queensland (34.2%), and South Australia (1.0%). In contrast, approvals declined in Western Australia (-14.1%) and Tasmania (-5.8%). On an annual basis, dwelling approvals climbed 20.2%, reversing a 1.1% fall in October.

Private house approvals in Australia increased 1.3% month-on-month to 9,458 units in November 2025, turning from 1.3% decline in the previous month and aligning with flash data. Approvals for private-sector houses rose in New South Wales (4.3%), Queensland (3.9%), and Western Australia (1.2%), but declined in Victoria (-0.9%) and South Australia (-3.7%). On a yearly basis, private house approvals grew 3.2%, accelerating from a 1.8% growth in October.
