MARKET COMMENTARY

The Aussie market was bashed as global macro worries and AI bubble worries escalated. US is unraveling in multiple ways. Domestic policy failures delivered the worst year of job cuts in the last decade when you exclude pandemic. Social unrest is ramping up despite White House TACO on Minnesota due to Epstein file release showing numerous cases ignored by law enforcement and White House. Geopolitics is ramping up with potential Iran strike as distraction is rising. Indian trade deal lacks detail and serves as talking point while push by US to get Iran to stop selling oil to China may be a bridge too far. The AI eating SaaS models are becoming the latest reason for AI/tech bubble to unwind. Result season is becoming a killing field as under forecasting is not saving tech companies with capex blowout. Slowing economy, rising inflation, policy uncertainty and AI/tech bubble unwinding are too many risk categories for markets trading at multi decade high. Expect White House to come up with some positive narrative before market opens in the US. US is trying to push BNPL for rent. That is BNPL on BNPL. The system is broken. It may be different this time!

CNBC – US and Iran > The U.S. Virtual Embassy in Iran issued a security alert early Friday urging American citizens to “leave Iran now” and prepare departure plans that don’t rely on U.S. government assistance. The notice comes ahead of U.S. and Iran’s scheduled talks in Oman on Friday, with little indication that the two sides have found common ground over the agenda of the meeting. U.S. Special Envoy Steve Witkoff and Jared Kushner, U.S. President Donald Trump’s son-in-law, were due to take part in the meeting with a team led by Iran’s Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi, according to American and Iranian officials. The U.S. has issued several similar security alerts over the past month. The Embassy last urged American citizens to leave the country in a warning on Jan. 14 as Trump was weighing options for a possible intervention in Iran to contain the unrest, including targeted military strikes.

CNBC – China, US and Panama > A simmering dispute over two container ports at either end of the Panama Canal risks becoming a geopolitical flashpoint between the world’s two largest economies: the U.S. and China. It follows a contentious decision from Panama’s top court voiding a license of a subsidiary of Hong Kong-based CK Hutchison for operating two key terminals on the waterway, through which some 40% of all U.S. container traffic transits every year. The ruling was seen as a major victory for the U.S., given that the White House has made blocking China’s influence over the global trade artery one of its top priorities. China has sought to raise the stakes in recent days. In its strongest rebuke yet, Beijing warned on Wednesday that the Central American country “will inevitably pay a heavy price both politically and economically,” unless it changes course.

Historically, 75% of retail investors have experienced losses during positive market periods. Investors are now facing market cycles that are unprecedented in their lifetime, making risk management a crucial aspect of investing. Going forward, the trend towards active investing is reemerging as investors seek quality, relative value, profitability, and dividends. To navigate this new paradigm, it's important to have an active investment strategy that is flexible and adaptable to changing market conditions!

The Australian sharemarket recorded its sharpest single-day decline since the US “Liberation Day” tariff shock in April 2025, as weakness across commodities, renewed concerns around AI investment returns and a sharp pullback in cryptocurrencies drove broad-based de-risking.

The S&P/ASX 200 fell 2.0% (-180.4pts) to 8,708.9, with all 11 sectors closing lower. Market capitalisation fell by approximately $65bn, marking the largest daily loss since the 4.2% sell-off on 7 April 2025. For the week, the index declined 1.8%.

The concurrent reassessment of AI, crypto and precious metals — the key thematic drivers of 2025 — increases the risk of further near-term volatility.

The ASX technology sector declined 12.6% over the week following renewed scrutiny of large-scale AI capital expenditure. Amazon fell 11% in after-hours trade after flagging US$200bn in capex, raising questions about medium-term return on investment. Locally, WiseTech Global fell 4.7% to $47.60, NextDC declined 3.9% to $12.71 and TechnologyOne dropped 5.0% to $21.86.

Uranium stocks also weakened as concerns persisted that AI-driven power demand may not translate into a sustained nuclear energy build-out. Deep Yellow fell 12.0% to $2.20 and Paladin Energy declined 10.9% to $11.01.

Commodity markets remained volatile. Silver rebounded 2% following an 18% slump in the prior session, while gold edged higher toward US$4,811/oz. Despite this, mining equities were weaker: BHP fell 3.1% to $48.79, South32 declined 4.1% to $4.41 and Newmont dropped 4.9% to $154.80. Rio Tinto was flat at $157.08 after confirming the termination of merger discussions with Glencore.

Real estate stocks underperformed as the US yield curve steepened to its most extreme level in over four years, reflecting expectations of rate cuts alongside persistent inflation and fiscal deficit concerns. Goodman Group fell 6.1% to $28.99 and Scentre Group declined 2.5% to $3.88. REA Group dropped 7.8% to $168.10 after its first-half result missed expectations and management guided to softer housing listings in Australia.

Web Travel fell 29.5% to $2.96 after confirming its Spanish subsidiary will be audited by the local tax authority.

News Corp declined 5.4% to $38.32, with strength in Dow Jones and digital real estate offset by weaker conditions in its Australian news business.

Neuren Pharmaceuticals slipped 5.2% to $12.52 after commencing dosing in its Koala Phase 3 trial of NNZ-2591 for Phelan-McDermid syndrome.

Markets remain vulnerable to further downside in the near term given elevated valuations, ongoing AI capex uncertainty and cross-asset volatility. We expect risk sentiment to remain fragile until clearer evidence emerges on earnings delivery from AI investment and stabilisation in crypto and commodity markets.
